The Young Kanien Journal at a Crossroads

Abstract:

The abstract should be between one hundred and fifty and two hundred words. It should summarize the content of the article and give the reader a clear idea of the content, so that he/she can decide whether or not to continue reading. Make sure the summary's font is size 11, as well as the keywords, even if the title's font is size 12.

Keywords :

Kanien, review, article, reader, content

Introduction:

The introduction, the length of which varies according to the goals and style of the author(s), must clearly indicate the goals pursued in the article, as well as the way in which the author(s) will proceed to achieve these goals.

I. The First Main Title

I.1 The first title (this is optional as some authors may only use main titles)

This first headline is divided into several sub-headings to express our ideas as clearly as possible. The first sub-heading deals with the first part of the question, while the second sub-heading deals with the second part.¹

I.1.1 The first sub-heading (this is optional)

We wish to deal with this theme, so precious to Kanien journal, which will enable us to highlight several points.

I.2 The second heading (this is optional)

II. The second main title

III. The third headline (you can have as many headlines as you like)

Conclusion

At the end of this work, we are pleased to have shown how to present an article for Kanien magazine. We hope it will be useful for future publications. We have used Times New Romans font, size 12 throughout the document.

¹ Put the references of the footnotes as indicated in norms in Times New Roman font, size 10.

Bibliography (follow the instructions given in the norms for publication; be sure to list authors alphabetically in a single group without categorizing references).

Tables and figures

If there are tables or figures, number them and give them titles. The table title is placed at the top as follows:

Table 1: Issues of Kanien

Years	Issues
2013	2

Source: (indicate the work or study from which the information shown in the table is taken)

The title of the figure (image, drawing or photo) is placed below the figure, as in the example below.
